Letters from the People.

All communications under this head must be accompanied by the writer's name. We will not be held responsible for any expression in this department.]—EDITOR.

Editor Press:—

There are two questions I would like to have you discuss in your paper, and if agreeable to you, I also wish you would express an opinion thereon.

First:—Are all of the old taxes which were due the county when the Tax Collectors were disqualified from office, now being collected or were they exonerated because they were too old?

At the time the Courts declared the old Tax Collectors to have been illegally elected, that was something like $12,000 of back taxes on the books, and it is these back taxes which I wish to inquire about—whether they were collected or exonerated.

Second:—Is in regard to the road Supervisors. Much has been said about the illegal expenditure of money by the road supervisors and about "graft" in the road taxes. We, I think, as citizens, owe it to ourselves to know whether the money is being properly paid out, and the road supervisors owe it to themselves to keep their accounts so public that there will be no question as to the money being properly handled.

It the newspapers would not charge too much for publishing a monthly statement of how the road taxes are spent in each township in the county, I will be willing to start a subscription with $100.00 for the purpose of having the accounts audited every month and published in the papers. This auditor should also be authorized to receive complaints from tax payers along the line of the different roads being worked.

There is no remedy for public wrongs except the honesty and manhood of the people themselves, and the people cannot act unless they have the information.

Yours truly,
JOSIAH HOWARD.

Oriental Palmist.

Madam Goodwin, of New York City, at City Hotel, Emporium, Pa., for ten days only.

Palmistry is not what a good many people imagine it to be—a species of fortune-telling; but it is an exact science, as has been proven over and over again. All well informed people now-a-days admit this fact, and many of them consult palmists frequently.

In every person's life there are several courses which he or she may pursue, many of which lead to failure and a few to success.

By consulting a skillful and reputable Palmist, it is possible to ascertain beyond the question of a doubt which of the several paths opening before you lead to the best and brightest success.

If you have been crossed in love, if interferers have broken your dearest and tenderest ties, in every affair it is wise to consult a Palmist.

Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnston gave a party to their son Lloyd last Thursday evening, April 12, in honor of his thirteenth birthday and forty-five of his young friends responded to the invitation. At about 7:30 o'clock the house was a veritable swarm of bees. The program of entertainment for the evening was magic lantern pictures, Buster Brown necktie party, anatomy contest and refreshments. Lena Swartz won the Buster Brown party prize the "Game of Proverbs", Ethel Lloyd the first prize and Robert Pearsall the second prize in the anatomy contest. These prizes were beautiful books, "Royal Hearts and True," by Ruth Ogden, and "In the Closed Room," by Frances Hodgson Burnett. As the guests departed for their homes Master Lloyd presented each with a souvenir Easter button and a box of candy. As we came from the lodge room we imagined that there were about a million youngsters in the house and if shrieks and rumbling sounds are evidence of a good time there is no mistaking that it was up to the royal standard. The young folks voted it one of the best times of their life and will long remember the hospitality of their young host.

Mr and Mrs. Johnston were assisted by Mrs. H. W. Good, Mrs. F. H. Pearsall, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Coppersmith and Mr. Edgar Good in entertaining the little guests.

Man About Town.

Some people say just what they think. That accounts for a good many people being silent.

Two heads one better than one, especially if they are the head on a silver dollar.

Johnny, says a woman on Fifth street to her son, "When that boy throws stones at you again, come and call me." "Call you!" says Johnny, "Why mother you could not hit a barn."

A person in town who is noted for putting a cent on the collection plate Sundays, was asked the other day how he liked the sermon. "Poor, very poor," said he. A friend remarked, "what could you expect for a cent."

When Mr. Carnegie's new spelling book comes out, instead of writing trousers, we will write, "in the morning he arose and put on his panc."

A lady in town says her maid of all work answered the door bell the other day and stood talking with the visitor some time. When he left she was asked who he was. She answered, "he is a gentleman looking for the wrong house."

They are having a revival up on the Portage. One of the anxious seat the other night in her excitement exclaimed, "I wish I had the wings of a grasshopper." After things had quieted down some, a fellow mourner asked her why she wished she had wings like a grasshopper, she said, "so I could fly to heaven." "You fool thing" she answered, "don't you know a woodpecker would catch you before you would get half way."

The sage of Portage remarks, "there ain't no more honesty. If he should go into business to-morrow with St. Peter for a salesman and the recording angel for a bookkeeper, they would beat him.

"Children," said one of our ministers addressing the Sunday school last Sunday, "why are we like flowers; what do we have that flowers have." A little fellow in one of the classes answered, "worms." The minister turned his back to the scholars to conceal his emotions.

At a meeting of the cracker barrel club, in Mike Hogan's the other evening, one of the members remarked, "we are fearfully and wonderfully made." "Yes," said another member sitting on a soap box, "and we should be thankful that we are made so we can sit down."

A man in Potter county was hugged by a bear and died from the effects of the grip.

Lott's wife turned into a pillar of salt. An Evangelical friend says, "that's what she got for being too fresh."

One of our young married men says he bought his marriage license on the installment plan—one dollar down and his monthly salary the rest of his life.

It is sorrowful to meet one of your old time friends who is a dyspepsic. We shook with one yesterday who had a pork and bean appetite and a milk toast stomach. Blessed are they who can digest birch bark and shingle timber.

Sheriff Swope says the town at one time had a champion long distance jumper; he jumped his bail clear to the Klondike.

Bill Thomas found a ten cent piece in the craw of a chicken he killed last Sunday. She was evidently keeping it until she got where she could buy a couple of beers.

Brother Pyle says love is much more courageous when the light is turned away down low.

We often meet ladies that use face powder. We think some of them we see, if they should meet a walking delegate of the whitewashers union, would have to show their card.

The window sill club at their last meeting decided that a noisy noise annoyed an oyster and that a hypocrity was a boy that went to school with a smile on his face.

An itinerant photographer has pitched his tent at Sizerville. A sign reads, "Pictures taken of all kinds, from a back tooth to a mouse's soul."

Uncle Peter Beattie says people talk about remarkable shooting; he says the best shot he ever made was due to luck. He was hunting one day and when it came noon, he was ten miles from camp and hadn't seen a thing. He sat down under a spruce tree and ate a lunch which he had in his pocket, smoked his pipe and fell asleep. He woke up with a start and when he opened his eyes he saw a big rattle snake within ten feet of him; he raised his gun thinking he would put a bullet through him, when a sound caused him to look and on a limb above his head, he saw a half dozen patridges; he thought a club would do for the snake and was just aiming at the birds, when out of the brush near him eame a deer, he changed his aim quickly. Just as he was covering the deer, he gave a jump and from the other side came a black bear, he changed his aim to the bear and fired. The gun burst-ed, the bullet killed the bear and as he fired the deer came by and a piece of the barrel went plumb through his heart and killed him dead. The lock flew off and as the rattlesnake had his mouth open and it went down its neck and choked him to death; the stock flew up and hit the bunch above his head and the shock killed the partridges and the explosion threw him more than thirty feet and he lit on a couple of rabbits.

GASSAWAY.

A Sharp Swindler.

Last Saturday a sleek rascal called at Cummings' bakery and requested some candy. While Miss Margaret was procuring the candy the chap extracted $20 00 from a pocket-book lying behind the counter. Immediately upon returning with the candy she noticed the pocket-book had been tampered with, being open. She at once made the chap stand still while she examined the contents. Seeing that four five-dollar bills were missing from the money she had prepared for deposit in the bank, she called policeman Monday and the proprietor, who searched the man. Not finding any money on his person they were compelled to give the suspect his freedom. Later in the day it was learned that the same man went into a saloon and presented a five-dollar bill saturated with tobacco juice. It flashed upon Policeman Mundy that the cud he was chewing was mostly the bills stolen. Prompt telegrams located him at Austin where he was arrested and returned to Emporium. The prisoner "owned the corn" and was committed to jail for court.

Progressive Whist.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Balcom entertained about forty lady and gentlemen friends at their Sixth street residence Tuesday evening, in a very pleasing manner. The evening was voted a very decided success. At mid-night elegant refreshments were served, after which the score cards were called in, the progressive prizes being awarded to Mrs. A. Brady and Mr. E. A. Pyle, while the booby favors were captured by Miss Alice Green and Hon. J. C. Johnson—ordinarily two expert whist players, but luck was against them.

Hoover. The lady was dead before they arrived at home. Deceased leaves a husband, father and mother, two sisters and three brothers to mourn her death. The funeral took place on Monday from the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank Kline, at Lebanon.

EARTHQUAKE WRECKS SAN FRANCISCO

One Thousand Lives Wiped Out.

Buildings in Six Blocks Went Down During the Shock Which Lasted Three Minutes. Fires Started and Added Terror---Water Mains Broken.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18, 8 a. m. In the confusion which reigns everywhere, it is almost impossible to learn details of the disaster caused by the earthquake this morning. In general it may be said that the district lying between Market and Howard streets from the bay to city hall has been wrecked. Most all the principle business blocks have been badly damaged.

Fires are burning in many places and the water mains have been broken by the earthquake. The authorities have resorted to dynamite to check the progress of the fire. The fire houses have been so badly damaged that it is impossible to get the apparatus out.

For the benefit of eastern people who have friends at San Francisco it is safe to say that they have not been injured.

In the cheap tenement district the loss of life is heavy. The residence portion of the city is but slightly damaged.

The last earthquake that occurred in San Francisco was about the middle of January 1900. The chief building affected was the St. Nicholas Hotel, which was severely shaken. The walls collapsed in certain parts of the structure and patrons were thrown from their beds.

At this time there is but one wire out of the ctiy, a Postal wire. The Postal building is considerably damaged.

A dispatch from Los Angeles says that 1,000 lives have been lost in the earthquake at San Francisco.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 18,—A severe earthquake shock occurred here this morning. There is great confusion and it is impossible to learn the extent of the damage. No loss of life is yet reported.

Barclay a Candidate.

Capt. C. F. Barclay, of Sinnamahoning, Cameron county, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress. He feels assured that his own county and McKean will be with him and that he stands a good show. Capt. Barclay was a candidate four years ago against S. R. Dresser. He is a gentleman of remarkable attainments and is one of the foremost citizens and business men of Cameron county. With two candidates from Clearfield, and one from Center, there promises to be lively doings in the district this summer.—Curwensville Review.

Schwab-Summerson.

Mr. John Schwab, of Cameron, Pa., and Miss Edna Summerson, of Sterling Run, Pa., were united in marriage, on April 15th, at Emmanuel Church Rectory, by Rev. J. M. Robertson. This popular young couple have many admiring friends in this county. Mr. Schwab, who is engaged in mercantile business at Cameron, while the bride, who has successfully taught school in this county for several years, is a lady of excellent character and greatly respected by all our citizens. The PRESS joins in hearty congratulations.

Census Figures and Marriage Customs.

We are indebted to Alfred Truman for the following information concerning a recent census taken of the British Empire together with some strange marriage customs of the people of India:

The whole empire contains 398,000,000 of people, scattered over different parts of the globe as follows: In Asia there are more than 300,000,000 of people in British dominions; in America there are 7,500,000; in Africa 43,000,000; in Australia over 5,000,000; and in Europe over 42,000,000. Classifying this vast, hetrogenous mass of people by religions, it is found that 203,000,000 are Indus, 94,000 000 are Mahomedans, 58,000,000 are christians, 12,000,000 are Budhists and 23,000,000 of various pagan and non-christian religions. This latter generalization represents Parsees, Jains, Jews and Confucians, and some other primitive forms of superstition.

There are in the British Empire 1,200,000 Chinamen who are known, from the best sources of information, to be exemplary subjects, made up of merchants, bankers and country gentlemen, as well as industrious and efficient workmen.

Considering that Egypt is practically under British rule, brings the population of the empire to considerably over 400,000,000, being over one fourth of all the people on the globe, and occupying more than one-fourth of the earth's space.

The marriage customs of the people of India are very strange and unnatural, and has so far been impossible of correction even by the British and Indian governments. Marriage of children in India takes place while the children are yet in infancy, and is nothing more than a contract entered into by the parents and guardians. Its most pathetic feature is the number of young widows in that land of strange customs for to become a widow, no matter at what age, means to remain a widow through life.

And while English law would recognize the validity of a second marriage Indian law and customs forbid it.

The census already referred to shows there are over a quarter of a million of married girls of the age of five years and under. Between the ages of five years and ten years over ten million married girls were found, and the number of married maidens between the years of ten and fourteen, were seven millions. There are at the present time 426,000 widows under the age of fifteen, destined, along with millions who are older, to remain in widowhood through life. Most of the widows of such tender years become so before they know what widowhood means. The custom of burning the living widow with the deceased husband has been abolished, and the same civilizing influences that suppressed that cruel practice will in time correct their unnatural customs relating to marriage and widowhood.

The age at which girls could be taken to wife by whomsoever had been married to them was formerly twelve years, but during the reign of Victoria that good queen succeeded in lawfully establishing the age at which real married life could begin to be fourteen years.

The Savings of Solomon.

Never go into business with relatives, says a writer in the American Magazine. They skin you even if you get St. Peter for doorkeeper and the Recording Angel for the book keeper?

Beware of false profits. A penny over charged may cause you to lose a dollar customer.

When you hear a man say "do others before they do you," look out for him! He is one of the evil doers!

When you are down, take knocks without howling. But when you get up again just sock it to your enemy with compound interest.

Mark Twain says—"Be good and you will be lonesome!" Your Uncle Solomon says—

"Better be alone in good company than sociable in bad!"

The ready lender generally finds out that when he gets broke there is a great deal of truth in the old saying that "He who goes a borrowing, goes a sorrowing!"

Paste this over your desk! If you haven't a desk, on your looking glass! If you haven't a looking glass, over your bed! If you haven't a bed, wear it next to your heart! Be sure to keep it by you so that you may remember, a dollar is your best friend!

Never answer advertisements that promise to pay you thirty dollars a week for sitting home, doing nothing! Save your stamps and your common sense! The postoffice hasn't cornered all the frauds yet!

Never run from a policeman or a dog! They'll think you are guilty whether you are or not! Then you are sure to get a clubbing, or a biting, no matter how little you may deserve it. There are times when it pays to stand still!"

Reception Given to Rev. Metzler.

The following is a clipping from the Gazette and Bulletin:

The members of the Mulberry Street M. E. church will give a reception at the church Monday evening, at 7:45 in honor of the new pastor.

The Rev. Oliver S. Metzler, the new pastor at Mulberry Street Methodist church, opened his pastorate yesterday with two sermons, both of which can be justly characterized as brilliant. The morning discourse was on the "Resurrection of Christ" and the evening in "Esther at Shushan." Mr. Metzler fully demonstrated the correctness of the reputation he has gained in other fields of labor for being a pulpit orator of splendid ability. The congregations both morning and evening were large and gave evidence of thorough appreciation of his work. The year opens most auspiciously in this church.—Monday's Williamsport News.

The Rev. O. S. Metzler opened his pastorate in Mulberry Street church yesterday under most encouraging auspices. The congregation, both morning and evening, were unusually large. The music and decorations were artistic and inspiring. The morning sermon on the "Resurrection," and the evening sermon on "Easter at Shushan," were both fine pieces of logical clearness and rhetorical beauty. The Rev. Mr. Metzler has a round, clear voice and speaks with energy and impressiveness. Only words of praise are heard from his work on the first day of his pastorate in the new field.—Williamsport Bulletin.

The only really perfect diamonds which are to be found on this globe are those which fall from the sky in meteorites; all diamonds which are mined in the diamond fields of the world are only fragments of gems. That is a startling statement, but a still more startling one is that all the diamonds to be found on our planet have fallen on our earth from the skies and have not, as most of us thought, been produced here like coal and other mineral products.

When the steamship Philadelphia arrived at Boston, the other day, she brought among the other things in her cargo a consignment of elephant tusks, or teeth, as they are called in the ship's manifest. There are about 300 tusks in the consignment, and in weight they run from about 75 pounds to the weight of an ordinary man. Few of them are less than a yard in length, and one is fully eight feet long, having evidently been the property at some time of an elephant that would rival the famed Jumbo in size.

Emperor William receives £600,000 a year—the biggest allowance made to any constitutional monarch. King Edward receives £470,000 a year, although a separate grant of £20,000 is made to the Prince of Wales, one of £10,000 to the Princess of Wales and another of £1,800 per annum to each of the king's three daughters. The king of Austria-Hungary figures high on the list of handsomely paid rulers, receiving £382,202 a year. King Alfonso, boy though he is, disposes of £338,000 annually, and even Belgium spares £132,000 a year for the glory of being a monarchy.

Perhaps the most remarkable feature of commercial progress in the United States is the wealth which its copper mines are yielding. Last year the output of American copper mines was nearly one billion pounds. This was worth $150,000,000. The output of the copper mines of the country alone, to say nothing of the gold and silver mines, was nearly four times as great as the dividends of the Standard Oil Co., which controls 70 per cent. of the oil industry of the United States. Just 21 copper mines paid in actual profits to stockholders the huge sum of $30,000,000.

Our idle rich, who have taken up the fad of scorching autos to furnish a novelty in lives otherwise doomed to ennui, have recently made enough excitement for themselves to satisfy the most exacting. What with a jail sentence in France, the experience of a scion of the noted house of Sheppard, and the attacks of an Italian mob on W. K. Vanderbilt, jr., it would seem that Europe is a good place to be shunned by speeding autoists. Here the laws are more elastic, and five-dollar fines are only an incident hardly worth noting in the speeder's diary.

In his 23 years at the bar, Lincoln had no less than 169 cases before the highest court of Illinois, a record unsurpassed by his contemporaries; he appeared before the United States circuit court and district courts with great frequency; he was the most indefatigable attendant on the Eighth circuit, and tried more cases than any other member of that bar; he was attorney for the Illinois Central railroad; he was also counsel for the Rock Island railroad and other corporations and individuals with important legal interests at stake.

Salvatore Vinciano, a gallant Roman, wooed and won Paolina di Ponta, a beautiful Roman girl, after the most ardent, strenuous and desperate courtship on record. For love of her he attacked her with a razor, blew up her home with dynamite, stabbed her with a stiletto, and then shot off two of her fingers. Incidentally he spent three years and three months in prison as a result of his loving attentions. Such sacrifice, constancy and devotion at last conquered the heart of the beautiful Italian girl and recently she married him, in Rome.

M. Roussel Geo has completed the largest picture ever painted. It measures exactly 807 square feet. The artist had to beg the loan of a studio of suitable size from the state, and he and his easels, some 26 feet high, were accommodated in the Galerie des Machines, the largest one-spanned building in the world. The picture represents the Paris crowd in 1789 rushing to the Hotel de Ville, led by Lafayette, after the taking of the Bastile, and contains over 1,000 life-size figures. It will be hung in a suburban town hall, that of Ivry.

NO SMASHING OF TARIFF.

Protection Will Continue to Bring Prosperity to the American People.

The chairman of the ways and means committee meets the issue raised by Representative McCall of Massachusetts with regard to the revision of the tariff at this session of congress. Mr. McCall, in a letter to Chairman Payne, alludes to conversations he has had concerning tariff alterations, in which he has explained the attitude of Republican members of the Massachusetts delegation and has called attention to the declaration of the Massachusetts Republican state convention. Mr. Mccall, says the Troy Times, explains that while the Republicans of his state have affirmed their unswerving adherence to the policy of protection and are opposed to any changes that may tend to depress American industry or lower American wages, they are of the opinion that certain schedules might be modified with beneficial effect, and Mr. McCall holds that this position is consistent with the principles embodied in the Republican national platform.

Mr. Payne, raising no question as to the sincerity of the Massachusetts Republicans, avows his own sympathy with the announcement in the national platform that there shall be readjustment of duties only when conditions have so changed as to demand such alteration. The question is whether such a contingency as the platform contemplated has arisen. In his view, and in that of the majority of his Republican colleagues in the house of representaitves, upon whom must rest the responsibility of action, the time has not arrived when a general revision of the tariff shall be undertaken. The case is thus stated: "While there is a minority of Republican members who concur that the tariff should be amended in some few items, there is a smaller minority who believe that any effort to change the tariff should be entered upon at the present session of congress." Mr. Payne takes occasion to mention the abuse and misrepresentation to which the Dingley tariff law has been subjected and against which it has been vindicated by its results.

The statement is tantamount to a declaration that there will be no meddling with the tariff for the present, and there can be little doubt that this decision will receive the hearty acquiescence of the great bulk of the American people. They do not want the tariff "smashed." If they did they would have plainly indicated their wishes in the last election. On the contrary, the people emphasized their preference for protection and their hostility to any breaking down of the barriers raised against foreign competition on our own markets, threatening our industrial prosperity and our wage schedules. The country is busy and prosperous, made so largely through the influence of protection. It is the part of wisdom to let well enough alone."

CLEARINGS ARE ENORMOUS

Banking Business of Last Year Shows the Virtues of Protective Tariff.

Our bank clearings during the calendar year 1905 were not only the greatest in our history but show a most remarkable gain over any preceding year. The total amounted to the vast sum of $413,874,902,598. This is $31,000,000,000 more than the preceding year, and more than $25,000,000,000 in excess of any previous year. When it is considered, says the American Economist, that our average annual bank clearings under the Wilson-Gorman tariff were only about $50,000,000,000, it will be seen what wonderful strides our business transactions have taken since the Dingley law went into effect. Should our clearings for the present year continue as they have begun they will exceed $200,000,000,000, the clearings for January being $16,321,500,279, nearly $2,000,000,000 more than the month preceding, which broke all records.

It seems probable that the clearings for 1906 will be four times as large as those for 1896, only ten years previous. We are now doing just four times the business we were doing under free trade. It would be folly, yes, a crime, to interfere with a tariff that brings such results.

Coming Easy.

Another blow to the pessimists. The treasury statement covering the operations for February shows that the fiscal year now has a surplus of more than $1,000,000. The deficit has disappeared, and for the first time in two years receipts are greater than expenses. The recent shortage was due to extraordinary payments, including those on account of the Panama canal, and the ready assailants of the administration made the mistake of assuming that the deficit had come to stay, and of course attributed it to that dreadful Dingley law. But the tariff act is working all right, the money is coming in faster than it is going out, and Uncle Sam is on Easy street, thank you.—Troy Times.

PROSPERITY IN EVIDENCE.

Gains in All Important Fields of Activity During the Last Year.

There has been a marked gain in the savings bank deposits of the state of New York within the past year. On January 1, 1906, the deposits in those institutions were $1,292,000,000 and the aggregate resources were $1,405,000,000. In the case of each of these items there was an increase of approximately $94,000,000 in the 12 months. This was $22,000,000 greater in both deposits and resources than the largest previous increase in any calendar year in the savings banks of the state of New York. Of course, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the banks of that state hold much larger sums of money than those of any other state, but the situation there may be safely said to reflect the general situation throughout the country.

In all important fields of activity there have been gains in the past year. The output of coal, copper, iron ore, gold and many other products in 1905 was larger than any other year in the country's history. Pig iron's yield was about 23,000,000 tons in the year, which was more than that of Great Britain, Germany and France combined. For 1900 the prospects are that the output will be still greater. The production now is at the rate of about 25,000,000 tons for the year, and the later months are likely to show a larger production than that of January and February. Bank clearings and railroad earnings are making new "highests" every month.

The coal strike, if it comes, will make something of a change in the situation, especially if it should last as long as it did in 1902. This is one of the reasons, however, why strong pressure will be brought to bear on both parties to force some sort of a modus vivendi. The stocks of coal on hand are much greater than they were at the outbreak of the strike four years ago, but the demand for it, owing to the growth in the country's industries in the interval, is far larger than it was then. This is the only cloud on the business horizon. Speculation is not so active as it was a few weeks ago, and this is a good sign. There is an absence of financial kiteflying at present, which is an encouraging indication. The outlook now is that 1906 will make a considerable gain over 1905 in most of the great lines of activity. Probably the New York superintendent of banking, when he makes up his account for the present 12 months, will find that a gain has been scored over the big year just ended.

TREASURY DEFICIT PAST.

Dingley Law Proving to Be More Perfect as a Revenue Producer.

March 1 saw an end to the deficit and a surplus of about a million dollars. This may vary somewhat, but the probabilities now point to a very substantial surplus for the year. Again are the revisionists put to rout and the successful operation of our tariff is maintained, says the American Economist. The Dingley law is proving to be more perfect from a revenue standpoint than any tariff law ever enacted. increased expenditures are met by increased customs duties and internal revenue. Year before last it was the Panama canal payments that caused a deficit, and last year the Cuban treaty and great increase in appropriations for rural free delivery caused a lesser deficit, but now again our receipts exceed our expenditures, and the surplus of 1906 will probably equal the deficit of 1905. Our imports, considering our tariff, are enormous because of the prosperity of the people, because of full employment and high wages. It would be folly to think of revising a tariff that continues to bring such beneficent results both to the treasury and to the people.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

☞Hearst still maintains that he is a Democrat. Well, the term is very elastic.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

☞Col. Bryan is out with a magazine article denouncing socialism. Is this the signal for a break with Hearst?—Troy Times.

☞That the Republican tariff policy is a permanent prosperity producer is evidenced by the January foreign trade figures. The total, $227,000,000, is the largest ever known, and the balance, $64,000,000, has been exceeded by only one former month.—Guthrie Capital.

☞How labor will be affected by any scheme of tariff revision must be one of the first considerations to any one but the recluse who finds the recasting of fiscal systems easy, in a study far removed from those to whom daily toil is a necessity. Our laboring population demands and will have a higher standard of living than the laborers of Europe accept, and the party that tells American workers that they must live poorly for the benefit of others is likely to receive a retort that it will long remember.—Boston Transcript.

☞Mr. Bryan will manage to return to the country in a dramatic manner. But November is not his lucky month for the psychological moment.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

☞Americans have had quite a little experience with this "joy unconfined" free trade game in the past. They tried it in 1893 and it took them about six years to recover from the joy of the experience. The Democracy has a short memory—or, if it has a fairly good memory, it must think that the American people have not the wisdom of the burnt child that dreads the fire.—Cincinnati Star.

Doctor Brigham Says

MANY PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womankind is not because it is a stimulant, not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructor ever discovered to act directly upon the generative organs, positively curing disease and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures and physicians who have recognized the virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience it can be relied upon to effect a cure. The following letter proves it.

Dr. S. C. Brigham, of 4 Brigham Park, Fitchburg, Mass., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to say that I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very efficacious, and often prescribe it in my practice for female difficulties.

"My oldest daughter found it very beneficial for a female trouble some time ago, and my youngest daughter is now taking it for a female weakness, and is surely gaining in health and strength.

"I freely advocate it as a most reliable specific in all diseases to which women are subject, and give it honest endorsement."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, bloating (or flatulency), weakness of organs, displacements, inflammation or ulceration, can be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If advice is needed write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. No other living person has had the benefit of a wider experience in treating female ills. She has guided thousands to health. Every suffering woman should ask for and follow her advice if she wants to be strong and well.

UNDERTAKING.

ANARCHISTS

Are to be Dealt with in a Firm Manner.

GANGS FROM ITALY

Have Landed in This Country and the Federal Authorities are Trying to Arrest Them.

Washington, D. C.—Anarchism in the United States will be put down with a firm hand. The information which has reached the government officials here that large numbers of Italian anarchists have arrived at San Francisco and Baltimore has resulted in the adoption of extreme measures to apprehend these men. While many have arrived in Baltimore and are making that city their headquarters, a number have gone to other places and the police have been notified to be on the lookout for them.

It was said Wednesday at the department of commerce and labor that the Italian government, through its consul at Baltimore, had furnished the name of one man whom it regarded as particularly dangerous, and the immigration officials are bending every effort to capture him. It is believed here that he is the ringleader of the band that has come to this country through the port of Baltimore and his apprehension is regarded as of especial importance.

Some idea of the character of the men with whom the department is dealing may be gathered from a recent incident in San Francisco. Within the past month an Italian was released from prison in that city and upon being questioned by the immigration authorities openly declared that if he was allowed to pursue his course he would kill the president of the United States. The man was taken in charge, conveyed across the country to New York and deported to Italy. He would not disclose, however, that he was a member of the organizations whose presence here has become known.

INDIANA REPUBLICANS CONVENE.

Resolutions Committee Refuses to Endorse Gov. Hanly's "House Cleaning" Policy.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Indiana republicans on Wednesday opened a state convention to nominate candidates for all state offices except governor, lieutenant governor and reporter of the supreme court. Addresses were delivered by Congressman Abraham L. Brick, temporary chairman; Senators Beveridge and Hemenway and Gov. Hanly.

The convention adjourned until today, when the committees on rules, organization and resolutions will report. Nominations will follow.

The resolutions committee, after a session lasting three hours, modified the plank endorsing the administration of Gov. Hanly which had been agreed on by party leaders. The plank as adopted by the committee follows:

"The present state administration from its inception has stood for the wise enactment of laws and the fearless enforcement of laws enacted. It has been and is characterized by jealous regard for the tax paying public and for the promotion of high standards in the administration of public affairs. The administration will long be remembered by reason of the fidelity and sturdy integrity of Gov. J. Frank Hanly, whose administration we most heartily and unreservedly commend and endorse."

The committee also refused to allow a clause to appear endorsing the "house cleaning" policy of the governor. This sentence referred to the governor's ousting of Secretary of State Storms and Auditor of State David E. Sherrick. Sherrick is now in the penitentiary.

EPIDEMIC IS UNCHECKED.

Typhoid Fever Finds Scores of New Victims in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Fifty-eight cases of typhoid fever were reported to the bureau of health on Wednesday. These were new cases that developed within 24 hours. A new and more serious phase has come over the situation in the reports from the schools about the city. There are about 1,000 pupils absent from school because of illness and a great many of them are suffering from typhoid. Superintendent of Schools Samuel Andrews attributes these cases to the unfiltered city water supplied to the schools.

ACUTE STAGE

In Anthracite Situation Has Been Reached.

NEARING A CRISIS.

Miners Offer the Operators Their Choice of Two Propositions Regarding Arbitration.

New York.—At the meeting of the sub-committees of the anthracite mine workers and operators here Thursday the representatives of the employes offered the mine owners the choice of two propositions in their endeavor to come to an amicable agreement, and the employers made an informal reply in which they intimated that they are not likely to accept either of the wage workers' offers. The operators will make an official answer to the miners' latest proposition by letter, and there will be no further meetings until something develops.

While there is still hope that a peaceful solution of the controversy will be found, the meeting Thursday did not bring the contending parties closer together; in fact, they appear to have almost reached the limit of their negotiations. If the operators should decline to entertain either of the propositions submitted by the miners, it is probable a convention of miners will be called at which the delegates will declare that a strike exists.

Briefly stated, the offer made by President Mitchell was a resubmission of the miners' original demands with two amendments, and in case they are not accepted he proposes that the whole controversy be placed before the strike commission.

In one of the amendments to the original demands President Mitchell drops the request for the recognition of the union and provides that the proposed agreement be made between the operators and the anthracite mine workers, instead of the United Mine Workers of America. The other amendment provides that only employes who are willing, shall be assessed a certain sum each month to defray the expenses of carrying out the proposed checkoff agreement.

If the operators will not accept the original demands as amended, the miners propose that they (the original demands as amended) and the operators' first proposition, which provides for a renewal for three years of the award of the anthracite strike commission, be referred for arbitration to the strike commission. Thus the miners drop their second offer which provided for arbitration by the conciliation board, and ignore the operators' second proposition with the exception of the strike commission feature, which they accept.

THE VERDICT IS GUILTY.

Greene and Gaynor Are Convicted of Embezzlement and Conspiracy to Defraud the Government.

Savannah, Ga.—After a trial lasting more than three months, Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gaynor were on Thursday found guilty on charges of embezzlement and conspiracy to defraud the United States government, by a jury in the federal court. Judge Speer announced that sentence would be imposed upon them to-day.

Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, of the engineer corps of the army, who had charge of the improvement works here under the Greene and Gaynor contract, was court-martialed for his complicity in the alleged frauds, and was sentenced to be dishonorably discharged from the army and to five years' imprisonment.

Greene, Gaynor and Carter were first indicted at Savannah in 1899. Greene and Gaynor were arrested, but resisted extradition to Georgia. When a decision was rendered against them they fled from New York to Canada, forfeiting bail to the amount of $40,000.

To avoid extradition from Montreal they fled to Quebec to change the legal jurisdiction. In May, 1902, Greene and Gaynor were kidnaped by a detective and taken to Montreal that they might be extradited. They were committed to jail, but Judge Caron, of Quebec, granted a writ of habeas corpus and they were taken back to Quebec and set at liberty. An appeal was made to the British government and a decision was made in favor of the United States. After some litigation they were extradited and brought back here in September, 1905.

Congress.

Washington.—On the 12th Messrs. Latimer and Foraker addressed the senate on the railroad rate bill. The feature of the proceedings in the house was a speech by Mr. Bourke Cockran (N. Y.) on the subject of general debate on appropriation bills.

SENTENCED.

Greene and Gaynor are Fined $575,749.

FOUR YEARS IN PEN

Men Convicted of Defrauding Uncle Sam are Mulcted for the Total Sum Thus Obtained.

Savannah, Ga.—Judge Speer in the United States court Friday sentenced Greene and Gaynor each to a term of four years in the penitentiary and to a fine of $575,749.90, the amount each is charged with having fraudulently obtained from the government.

When the prisoners were brought into court Judge Speer asked counsel for the defense if they had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced. Col. P. W. Meldrum answered in the negative, whereupon the court imposed sentence. Each defendant had been found guilty upon all the counts of the three indictments charging conspiracy, embezzlement and presenting false claims.

The sentences upon the three indictments were respectively two, four and four years, but the court ordered that these run concurrently, so that the sentence was really for four years. Imprisonment is to be in the federal prison at Atlanta.

The defense will file a bill of exceptions, and they asked for an order of court extending to 30 days the time permitted counsel for preparing this bill, which will be very voluminous, and that the order act as a supersedeas.

PEACE IS IN SIGHT.

Dowie Is Willing to Relinquish His Claims on Payment of $1,000,000.

Chicago, Ill.—Peaceful settlement of the strife between John Alexander Dowie and those of his followers who recently rebelled under the leadership of Wilbur Voliva is in sight, according to statements made last night by the legal advisers of both Dowie and Voliva.

At the termination of Friday's conference, which was participated in by V. V. Barnes, legal adviser of Zion City; Jacob Newman, counsel for Voliva, and Attorney Wetten, representing Dowie, Mr. Newman said:

"Dowie and his advisers admitted to-day that we have in our possession documentary evidence that 95 per cent. of the Zion City properties belong to the Christian Catholic church, and he has acquiesced in the proposition that if he is given 5 per cent. of this property, after he has been installed in temporary control, both ecclesiastical and financial, he will retire.

"In other words, Dowie desires to be vindicated, to be reinstated with full powers attending the first apostleship of the Christian Catholic church, whereupon he will issue an edict declaring that 95 per cent. of the property of Zion City belongs to the church and that 5 per cent. belongs to Dowie. This would give to Dowie $1,000,000 and to the church $19,000,000."

THE TREND OF TRADE.

Conditions Throughout the Country are Very Favorable.

New York.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Stringency in the money market has caused no interruption to the wholesale progress of trade industry, although tending to develop conservatism in speculative departments. Weather conditions accelerate distribution of seasonable merchandise and retail business is of large volume outside the immediate vicinity of the coal mines and a few other places where local controversies have their influence. Building operations are only limited by the supply of labor and material, which causes frequent delays and the heavy consumption of all commodities is shown by the highest level of quotations since February, 1884.

Manufacturing plants are fully engaged; pig iron production is at the maximum, shipments of footwear from Boston exceed those of any previous year and a stronger tone is reported at the textile mills.

Failures this week numbered 193 in the United States, against 214 last year, and 20 in Canada, compared with 20 a year ago.

Congress.

Washington.—On the 13th the senate passed about 300 bills, most of them being private pension bills. The house completed consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill, after a day of exciting debate.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PAINT.

Important Memorandum.—The painter is the most important factor in painting. A job complete, done by a good painter, with the best quality of paint, costing say $60.00 ($40.00 labor, $20.00 paint), will last five years. The same paint applied by a dauber ($30.00 labor, $30.00 paint), will last only two years. Thus the "pen-penny-cost" of the good painter's job is $12.00—the poor painter's, $30.00.

Above all, USE GOOD PAINT!

The oil! linseed oil! Just pure linseed is the "life"—the one great requisite of good paint for which there is no substitute—and the sure way to get the pure, fresh linseed oil is to buy the oil and separately. For every gallon of Kinloch Paint buy one gallon of linseed oil. This makes two gallons of paint, ready for use. You then know that the paint you're putting on your house is alive—"the genuine oil is in it," and paint is not paint unless it contains 50% of really pure oil. We will further explain the virtues of Kinloch Paint if you will call and see us.

TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in convention at the Lyceum Theatre in the city of Harrisburg, on Wednesday, June 6, 1906, at 10:30 a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices, viz:

One person for the office of Governor;
One person for the office of Lieutenant-Governor;
One person for the office of Auditor-General.
One person for the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs; and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

In accordance with the rules governing the party, the representation in the State Convention will be based upon the vote polled at the last Presidential election. Under the rules each legislative district is intitled to one delegate for each two thousand votes cast for Republican electors in 1904, and an additional delegate for every fraction of two thousand votes polled in excess of one thousand.

By order of the State Committee,
W. R. ANDREWS, Chairman.

The impression prevails among the neighbors of Judge John Stewart that he would accept the republican nomination if it were tendered him. The Chambersburg Repository, published in his home town, says: Justice Stewart has said nothing to indicate in the least that he would even accept the nomination, but his friends believe that should it be thrust upon him he could not very well decline. The feeling over the state is strongly in his favor and this being the case the will of the people should be accepted. With Justice Stewart at the head of the ticket this year the Democrats might as well bid farewell to any future hope, for it would mean a united Republican party, and that always means Republican success.

A National Theatre.

Florence Rockwell, who has impersonated many Shakespereian heroines with marked success, writes in the May Delineator of the importance of establishing a national theatre if for no other reason than to produce the splendid plays of Shakespeare. Miss Rockwell says:

The drama in this country needs some such representations, for the play wright as well as for actors, and what better could happen for the drama than to have standard productions of Shakespeare's plays. To the playwright they would offer an object lesson in dramatic construction and literary style and divert his work from the insipid society play or riotous musical comedy of to-day, thus raising the whole average of American dramatic authorship.

Living indoors so much during the winter months creates a sort of a stuffy, want-of-ozone condition in the blood and system generally. Clean up and get ready for spring. Take a few Early Risers. These famous little pills cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels and give the blood a chance to purify itself. They relieve headache, sallow complexion, etc. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Sparing little weeds spoils many a large harvest.

Don't tie a cough or a cold up in your system by taking a remedy that binds the bowels. Take Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It is different from all other cough syrups. It is better. It opens the bowels—expels all cold from the system, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. An ideal remedy for young and old. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

How Japs Keep Strong

Press Readers Can Learn Something of Value From This.

Such a thing as a weakling is hardly known in Japan. The wonderful endurance of the Japanese soldiers and sailors in the recent war has been the marvel of all nations. Both men and women are well, happy and strong.

The reason for this, so careful investigators tell us, is that the Japanese from childhood up know how to keep well through care of the digestive system. If they have trouble with indigestion, heartburn, wind on the stomach, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, headaches, rheumatic pains, back-aches, or any of the other troubles caused by a weak stomach, they treat themselves with some of the principal remedies that compose Mi-o-na, a stomach remedy that has already a large sale in Emporium at L. Taggart's.

So uniformly successful has the remedy been in curing all stomach troubles where it is used in accordance with the simple direction given with each box, that L Taggart gives a signed guarantee with every fifty cent package to refund the money if Mi-o-na fails to benefit.

He takes all the risk. If you have any stomach weakness, are nervous or fear that some articles of food will cause trouble and indigestion, here's the opportunity to get well without risking a cent. Those who use Mi-o-na are able to eat anything digestible without fear of ill results.

What good does it do to eat if your stomach fails to digest the food? None. It does you harm—causes belching, sour stomach, flatulence, etc. When the stomach fails a little Kodol Dyspepsia Sure after each meal will digest what you eat and makes the stomach sweet Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Dr. Lyman Abbott discuses, in the June number of the Woman's Home Companion, the question, "Is the World Growing Better?" in the light of personal recollections. Among other stories are "A Question Settled," "Affairs of State," "The Patent Churn" "The Test," "Buddie" "The Tale of a Persian Rug," "The Desert and the Ravens," and "The Case of the Spring Lock." The special article, "American Dollars and Faked Antiques," gains additional interest from an authorized comment by Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke and "The Adventures and Perils of a News Photographer," is vivified with striking photographs. There are also practical articles on "Electricity in the Kitchen" "Landscape Gardening for Moderate Incomes," "Summer Embroidery," "Women and Proof Reading," "Stenciling," Fashions and Home Affairs. FOR PURE WATERS AND BETTER HEALTH

Health Commissioner Dixon's Great Task Is to Reclaim the Waters of the State From Pollution.

THE DISPOSAL OF SEWAGE

Sanitary Engineering Division of the Department of Health Is Teaching Municipalities Efficient and Economical Methods of Drainage.

A lamentable and tremendous amount of needless suffering, sickness, expense and death annually result from the wanton pollution of the streams of Pennsylvania among those individuals dependent upon these sources of supply for drinking water. Hundreds of communities hang in the balance and at any time may have an epidemic of typhoid fever stalking through their midst and decimating their numbers. Hundreds of the young and best lives of the commonwealth are annually sacrificed to the unsanitary customs of sewage disposal. Poison material of human origin from public and private institutions, sewers and privies are emptied into streams at points but short distances above water works intakes, and in a few hours thereafter are delivered through the water pipes of public systems to many innocent and unsuspecting individuals, who rest secure in the belief that the public authorities, having in charge the furnishing of drinking water, and who are responsible for the purity of the water thus supplied, are faithfully performing their obligations.

Public and private corporations, however, even when earnestly inclined are often limited in their powers to prevent sewage contamination of the sources of water supply.

After years of affliction, and at a terrific cost in human life, it has finally dawned upon the people that a higher authority than the municipality must grapple with the problem and afford a remedy. It is, therefore, of interest to every citizen of the commonwealth to know about the work that Health Commissioner Dixon is doing to preserve the purity of the waters of the state in fulfillment of the duty laid upon him by the act of April 22, 1905.

The enormity of the task is comprehended when one realizes the fact that almost without an exception every city, borough and municipality in Pennsylvania having a sewer system discharges its filth into the most convenient nearby stream, regardless of consequences to the user of that stream at some point below.

Further, where there are no sewers, privies are almost universally located on or near the banks of natural water courses, which thus serve as open sewers. By no known mathematics is it possible to compute the extent of evil, the misery, expense, poverty, lifelong suffering and death which this custom entails; but it is a fact that a large amount of it all would be driven from the state if sanitary methods of sewage disposal were adopted.

It is the privilege, as well as the duty, of the State Health Commissioner to bring about just this result. No short sighted, vacillating and radical policy could be successful in such a great undertaking. It will necessarily be the work of years to undo the customs of generations and establish universal healthful conditions. Its success in a measure depends upon the enlightenment and co-operation of the people. The stupidity and skepticism of a preoccupied and selfish populace is a barrier to quick results. Where the public conscience is quickened, voluntary reforms will be inaugurated and benefits will be at once secured. In other cases the law will have to be invoked and enforced.

The Chief Engineer of the Department, F. Herbert Snow, and his assistants are now traversing every part of the State, making examinations of sewerage systems and water supplies and collecting data with respect to the quality of all of the waters in Pennsylvania. More than this is being done, sources of pollution and menaces which can be abated at once are reported to the commissioner, and in many cases a request on his part to the owner of the premises is sufficient to cause a removal of the nuisance. The number of letters of encouragement and co-operation in this kind of reform received by the commissioner splendidly illustrates the willingness of the citizens of the state to do what is right In a few cases owners wilfully refuse to do away with the causes of disease, in which event they are being brought into court or forced to comply with the w.

Another important feature of the commissioner's work is appealing to the municipalities, namely, the utilizing free of cost to them of the services of the engineering department in consultation and advice respecting the installation of new water works and sewer systems and the extensions of existing systems. This engineering service does not interfere with the work of the engineer in private practice, but increases it. The state department gives free of cost the very best engineering advice procurable, which has already resulted in saving to municipalities large sums of money by obviating costly mistakes. In carrying out the general advice and suggestions of the state department, the municipalities must employ their own engineers, but before plans are finally adopted they pass for approval to the health commissioner. Dr. Dixon confidently asserts that through his engineering division he will save to the municipalities in the state hundreds of thousands of dollars, and at the same time work with the local authorities in carrying out local improvements.

We are willing to pay the wages fixed by the strike commission. We have nothing further to offer."

Easter Services at Emmanuel Church.

There was a good attendance at each of the services at Emmanuel Church on Easter-day, all the pews being filled at the mid-day service. The beautiful floral decorations in the chancel and the inspiring music, rendered more effective by the addition of several men's voices in the choir, gave fitting outward expression to the inward joy of the Resurrection Festival. The sermon was from the text, Romans 6:5: "For as we have been united with Christ in the likeness of His death, even so shall we be united with Him in the likeness of His resurrection."

The new memorial communion silver was used at the early and mid day celebration for the first time.

The offerings for the organ and Parish House funds amounted to $150. The new organ has now been entirely paid for. The mite-box offerings of the Sunday School amounted to $50, to which $6.70 was added by the church people of Driftwood.

At the annual parish meeting on Monday evening, the members of the old vestry were re-elected.

Diagnosis of Headache.

"There are more than fifty kinds of headache," said a physician, "and sufferers from the more common forms may cure themselves by locating the cause and treating themselves accordingly. The more frequent forms are a dull pain across the forehead, due to dyspepsia; a pain in the back of the head, due to the liver; a bursting pain in both temples, due to malnutrition; an ache on the top of the head, as though a weight pressed on the skull, due to overwork; an ache between the brows just above the base of the nose, due to eye strain."

Dear Sir: Currie Hardware Co., Atlantic City, N. J., had been dealing in paint for more than twenty years, and last year found-out Devoe. This is how they did it.

Bought two cans, took-off the labels, sent to a chemist for analysis.

The chemist found it pure; and they took our agency.

This is the way to find-out a paint; but not every dealer can do it. There ought to be public provision for making good things known without cost. It's a pity American citizens haven't got it. The people want it, even more than the trade.

STORIES OF THE SECRET SERVICE

BY

Capt. Patrick D. Tyrrell

STORY No. 5

The Boscobel Koniackers

Being an Account of the Capture and Conviction of the Band of Counterfeiters Operating in Wisconsin in 1878.

By CAPTAIN PATRICK D. TYRRELL

[Copyright, 1905, by Marion G. Scheitlin.]

Frank W. Oakley, United States marshal at Madison, was told of my plan and his services and those of two of his most competent deputies were secured. Warrants were taken out secretly at Madison. Marshal Oakley said he had frequently heard of Kale Ellis, and that from all he had heard he was a dangerous man to handle. I also sent to Chicago for John McDonald and C. D. Townsend, the latter a secret service operative. The five men were instructed to come to Boscobel on the same day, and to register at the hotel without letting it be known that they knew me or knew one another.

It was about 11 o'clock at night when I smuggled them into my room, where I outlined my plan to them. I did not deem it consistent to send any other man into probable danger of which I myself was afraid, so I planned to take the lead in the actual entry of the house. One of the others was to be stationed about 16 feet from each corner of the house in such a way that each could command a view of two sides of the building. I calculated that Ellis and Brown might leap from the second-story windows in front when they heard me ascending the stairs. To the men stationed in front I said:

"One of these men who may jump from the second story has sworn to kill on sight any secret service men that tries to take him. His record is such there is no doubt he means what he says. If these men jump from the windows they will be armed and will kill any men in their path. Either you or they will be killed. It will be better if it be they. Shoot them before they strike the ground if you want to save your own lives."

The nearest neighbors of the Robinsons had a child that was not expected to live through the night on which we planned the raid. Mrs. Robinson, although the wife of one criminal and the associate of others, retained the maternal solicitude for any child that was sick and had made herself useful at the house of her neighbors. She had been at the bedside of the little one during the day and returned only in time to prepare supper for her husband and the other "koniackers." I knew of her interest in the condition of the sick child, and decided to turn it to our own advantage. At a quarter to two in the morning of April 16, 1875, we left the hotel and repaired to the Robinson home in such a manner as not to attract attention from any belated townsman in case we met one.

After reaching the premises no word was spoken and none was necessary, as final and detailed instructions had been received by the officers before we left the hotel covering any possible emergency that might arise. The night was very dark and a high wind blew, suiting our purpose well.

With each man at his station, I rapped at the front door softly, one of the deputy marshals who was recommended for his coolness and bravery at my back. There was no answer and I knocked again, lightly, as I wished to avoid waking the men sleeping upstairs. Still there was no response, and the third time I rapped harder. Robinson came to the woor. Without opening it he asked:

"Who's there?"

"The child is worse," I answered.

At this he opened the door carefully, but wide enough to enable me to get my foot through the opening and force a quick entrance. The deputy at my back was as dependable as I had been told he was, for he followed instructions to the letter, pressing in behind me and taking Robinson off my hands so that I could be free to go after the others. In a flash he had Robinson under cover of his revolver, and threatened him with death if he made any outcry.

The taking of Robinson had occurred in the little front hallway from which the stairs led to the second floor. Revolver in one hand and dark lantern in the other, I ran softly up the stairs. The door of the room in which the other two counterfeiters slept was ajar. Throwing the flare of the bull's-eye into the room, I saw Ellis and Brown in bed, but each reaching for his revolver, one of the weapons being under the pillow and the other on a small stand at the head of the bed. Coving them with my own weapon before they had time to lay hands on their revolvers, I shouted:

"Lie back, or I'll kill you."

Both lay on the pillows.

"The first that moves will be shot," I commanded.

Cautiously and with my revolver and lantern still trained on the counterfeiters, I backed to the front window and rapped on the pane. This was the signal that had been arranged for two men to come to my assistance. Under the cover of three revolvers Ellis and Brown were doggedly obedient and put on their clothes. The other two men had by this time entered the house and gone to the relief of the deputy who entered with me in caring for Robinson and his wife.

In the room across the hall from the sleeping-room of Ellis and Brown I found the printing press and materials they had been using, $15,000 in 50-cent scrip, together with the same plates Kale Ellis had dropped in the Pecatonica river, in making his daring escape from Operative Drummond long before.

The three cursing counterfeiters, Mrs. Robinson and the "koniacking" outfit were taken to Madison on the next train. The men pleaded guilty and were sentenced to serve seven years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Robinson was given her liberty.

Well satisfied with the results of the Wisconsin job, I returned to Chicago and dropped into the routine of my work, little thinking that the events immediately to follow would necessitate my return to the Badger state. But no sooner had I returned than a $100 note was brought to my attention which had been sent to the Union national bank from the City bank of Portage, Wis., a correspondent of the Chicago bank. The bill, in my opinion, was unquestionably counterfeit. A few days later a $100 bill of the same issue, but bearing the name of another bank, was offered at the Chicago post office. Then to the Traders' national bank there came a $100 bill from the bank at Shelbyville, Ill. This was also of the same issue, but bore the name of still another bank. My collection was soon further increased by a $100 bill from Parsons, Kan., following which came the information from secret service headquarters that a $100 note had been passed at Louisiana, Mo.

Here was an unexpected snower. The bills were apparently all off the same plate, which had been a skeleton plate, the names of the Revere national bank of Boston, Second national of Wilkesbarre, Pa., and the Merchants' national of New Bedford, Mass., having been filled in by the skeleton process. At the United States subtreasury Fred M. Blount, the cashier, insisted the bills were genuine. The cashiers of five out of eight banks to which they were submitted also held them to be good. Thomas P. Tallman, cashier of the Traders' national, and I ingisted they were counterfeit.

I found at the post office that the bill offered there had been sent by the postmaster at Cambridge, Ill., to whom I immediately sent a telegram in the name of J. W. Palmer, the Chicago postmaster. The Cambridge postmaster answered that he had received the bill in question from the Cambridge bank and that no accurate description of the man who had passed it could be obtained. The cashier of the bank at Portage wrote that he had received the bill from a man about 45 years old, nearly six feet tall and with dark, full beard. He looked like a well-to-do farmer, the cashier wrote, but further than this the description was hazy. A somewhat similar general description, except as to the color of the beard and altogether more definite, came from Parsons. I sent Operative Kennoch to St. Louis and Louisiana to pursue the investigation there.

While these things were happening I received word through the United States marshal at Springfield, Ill., to the effect that a deputy sheriff at Vandalia, Ill., had arrested a man for trying to pass a $100 counterfeit bill at the Farmers' and Merchants' national bank in the latter city. This bit of news, considered in connection with the rapidly occurring events of the days previous, was decidedly important, and I lost no time in getting to Vandalia. I found that at all bearded, farmer looking man of about 50 had tendered a $100 bill to David Palmer, of the local bank, and that Palmer had declined to accept it, reporting the matter to Deputy Sheriff Cluxton, who had arrested the stranger at the railroad station as he was about to leave Vandalia. He gave the name of "Levi Logan," and said he had received the bill from one Charles Scott, of Fond du Lac, Wis., in a horse trade. When arrested he had in his possession another counterfeit bill of the same kind as he tried to pass, and $154 in good money.

I questioned the prisoner, but decided from his manner that he was not "Levi Logan." Who he really was remained to be found out. I asked for permission to take the prisoner into my custody, but Deputy Sheriff Cluxton declined to turn him over to me. I argued that if held and tried in that county he could not possibly be convicted because witnesses could not be brought in from another state, whereas, the government could command the attendance of witnesses from any state. The local authorities also had no facilities for doing the work necessary to secure such evidence as would convict the prisoner. But Cluxton was obdurate. I appealed to a prominent local attorney who had influence with the deputy sheriff, and in this way finally secured custody of the prisoner and took him to Springfield.

I often have thought since that if the deputy who clung so tenaciously to his man had had any idea of the part the prisoner was to play in counterfeiting history he would have relinquished him gladly to the United States authorities. Had he persisted in retaining custody of "Levi Logan" it is likely that one of the most important bands of "koniackers" in the country would have enjoyed their liberty much longer than they did.

The only clews I had to work on in establishing the identity of "Levi Logan" were his story that he had come from Wisconsin, and a description of the man. The first clew was strengthened by the fact that the bills that had found their way into Chicago had been passed by a man traveling from north to south. I was convinced that "Logan" was an adept in the "shoving" of counterfeits, and if this were true and he hailed from Wisconsin there was little probability that he was not affiliated with the Boscobel gang in that state.

In the meantime the bill on the Revere national of Boston had been received at the Chicago post office from George C. King, as told in the beginning of this story. This bill had come from the east, and from this fact I surmised that the man who had passed it had traveled west to Wisconsin, probably from New York city, and thence southward.

I believed that in a region that had harbored for years such a strong band of counterfeiters as the Boscobel crowd there must be information cocerning the identity of a "shover" who said he came from that locality, and who, apparently, was thoroughly familiar with it. Consequently I provided myself with photographs of "Levi Logan" and started for Wisconsin.

On this trip I had not long pursued my investigation when I encountered the name of "Watson"—one with which I was entirely unfamiliar in counterfeiting circles. From the report I got from persons familiar with Kale Ellis, Frank Brown and Malcolm Robinson, the "Watsons" must have visited Wisconsin frequently, always associating with men who bore shady reputations, and who later were found to be counterfeiters. The reputed home of the "Watsons" was at Clear Lake, Ia. Without going to that place I stored away what I heard about them for future reference, continuing my search in Wisconsin.

At last I found my reward through casually showing the photograph of "Levi Logan" to a man who at once recognized him as the father of Mrs. Malcolm Robinson. The true name of the Springfield prisoner I found to be Frank Conway. One of his daughters had married Malcolm Robinson and another had married his brother, Clate, both of the husbands then being in prison for counterfeiting offenses.

STATUE OF M'CLELLAN.

Equestrian Figure of the General to Adorn the City of Washington.

Washington.—This city of monuments and statues is to be graced by a fine equestrian statue of Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan, which is now being constructed by Frederick MacMonnies, whose fountain at the World's Columbian Exposition won him world-wide fame. It is expected that the statue will be ready for unveiling on October 18. The commission in charge of the work is composed of the secretary of war, Senator Wetmore, of Rhode Island, and Gen. Horatio C. King, of Brooklyn. The statue is the outcome of the efforts and subscriptions of the Society of the Army of the Potomac, which will hold its thirty-seventh annual reunion coincident with the unveiling in the capital city. The discussion caused by the appearance of the model of Gen. McClellan in a slouch hat, at a period when that was not worn, led to the substitution of the cap which Gen. McClellan wore at the time, in which the statute depicts him, when he was in command of the Army of the Potomac.

Various other works of MacMonnies of a military character are to be found throughout the country. He designed the army and navy groups for the soldiers' and sailors' monument at Indianapolis; the figure of Victory in the battle monument of West Point; and of his other works in this country may be mentioned the magnificent bronze doors and statue of Shakespeare in the library of congress; the Nathan Hale monument in City Hall park, New York, and the fountain at the world's fair at Chicago, to which reference has already been made.

NEW CHIEF OF STAFF.

Brig. Gen. Bell Wins Place at Head of Army by Aggressive Military Policy.

Washington.—Brig. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, who has just been appointed chief of staff of the regular army, was born in Kentucky 50 years ago and was sent to West Point in 1874. He was graduated in June, 1878. It was not until December 29, 1890, that he was commissioned a first lieutenant. He was made a captain March 2, 1899, and a brigadier general February 19, 1901.

Gen. Bell is one of the few brigadiers who have never held commissions as major, lieutenant colonel or colonel in the regular service. He was appointed a major of engineers during the Spanish-American war in the volunteer service, served in the islands under Gens. Merritt and Otis and was made a colonel of the Thirty-sixth United States infantry July 5, 1899, and December 5 his services were rewarded by a commission as brigadier general of volunteers. In 1901 he was named as a brigadier general of regulars.

Gen. Bell's services as head of the war colleges at Fort Leavenworth have won for him recognition from the president and secretary of war, and it is said that his aggressiveness and belief in maneuvers and outdoor work for troops led to his appointment to the important post to which he has been appointed.

"Social Democrats" Invade England.

Certain Russian immigrants reaching England without money have been passed by the immigration authorities, although they should have been rejected under the new aliens act. They were passed when they declared themselves to be social democrats, and by replying to the following question: "Are the operations of the society directed against all governments, or only against the Russian government?" "Only against Russia." "Admitted." The immigration authorities now find that they are overwhelmed with impoverished social democrats from Russia. In fact, nobody but social democrats seems to be emigrating from Russia just now.

SCRAPS OF SCIENCE.

The fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the aniline dye is to be celebrated by the world of science by the placing of a portrait of the inventor, Dr. Perkin, in the National Portrait gallery, and a bust in the rooms of the Chemical society at Burlington House, London.

Gas is the fundamental basis of the sense of smell, says Dr. John Aitken, F. R. S., according to the Scientific American. Berthelot says that one hundredth of a quadrillionth of a gram of musk can be detected by the nose. Dr. Aitken has found that of 24 odorous substances investigated not one gave off its perfume in solid particles; nothing but gases and vapors escaped from any of them.

Two distinct organizations, both composed of men eminent in science, are studying the sun with extraordinary care. One, the Solar Commission, established in 1903, is devoting its researches to the effect of the sun on the weather and climatic changes of the earth. The other, the Solar Union, formed in 1904, is endeavoring to ascertain more than is now known about the sun itself. Both are European associations.

Prof. Spring, a Belgian who has been studying the causes of color in water, under various conditions, says that if water otherwise entirely pure contains one part of every 10,000,000 of ferric hydrate, an iron compound, it will appear green, where the depth is considerable. With less than one part of ferric hydrate in every 20,000,000 it will be blue. But less than one part of vegetable mold or humus matter in every 40,000,000 will make the blue tint of water disappear.

OVER THE OCEAN.

The Uffizi gallery, Florence, has acquired a collection of 11,000 portraits, etchings, engravings and copper plates, representing celebrated historical personages, monarchs, popes and artists.

RHEUMATISM CURED

The Disease Yielded Readily to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Other Treatment Failed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure rheumatism because they supply the necessary elements to the vitiated blood and enable nature to cast out the impurities and effect a cure. Mrs. A. Baker, of No. 119 Fitch street, Syracuse, N. Y., will furnish living evidence of the truth of this statement. "There has been rheumatism in my family ever since I can remember," she says. "My grandmother was a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism and my mother also had the disease in a mild form. About a year ago I had a hard cold and rheumatism caught me in my left knee. There were sharp pains, confined to the neighborhood of the knee and they seemed to go right into the bone. The pain I suffered was intense and I also had dizzy spells.

"The doctors called my trouble uriatic and sciatic rheumatism. When I didn't get better under their treatment my brother-in-law suggested that I try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I bought three boxes, and, by the time I had taken them, the pain and dizziness had entirely left me. I wanted to make sure of a cure so I bought three more boxes, but I didn't take quite all of them as I found that I was entirely cured.

"Before I took the pills the pain was so severe that I had to cry at times and when I was cured I was so thankful and grateful and I am glad to recommend them to every one who suffers with rheumatism."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured severe cases of anæmia, sciatica, nervousness, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia and St. Vitus' dance that have not responded to other modes of treatment.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

BOYS SHOULD NOT—

Laugh at the suggestions made by the man over you.

Attempt to put a wrong construction on a girl's words.

Imagine assurance will supply the place of knowledge.

Sneer at those who are trying to give you good advice.

Refuse to try an experiment because you think it has no merit.

Refuse to explain honestly why you fail to keep your appointment.

Think it makes you appear large to belittle the ability of others.

Speak slightingly of the man who wants to curb your enthusiasm.

Write a letter in a way that an expert is required to decipher it.

Spend your cash recklessly with the idea of deceiving those around you.

DECAYED STARCH.

A Food Problem.

An Asheville man tells how right food did that which medicines had failed to accomplish:

"For more than 15 years," he says, "I was afflicted with stomach trouble and intestinal indigestion, gas forming in stomach and bowels and giving me great distress. These conditions were undoubtedly due to the starchy food I ate, white bread, potatoes, etc., and didn't digest. I grew worse with time, till, 2 years ago, I had an attack which the doctor diagnosed as appendicitis. When the surgeon operated on me, however, it was found that my trouble was ulcer of the pancreas, instead of appendicitis.

"Since that time I have had several such attacks, suffering death, almost. The last attack was about 3 months ago, and I endured untold agonies.

"The doctor then said that I would have to eat less starchy stuff, so I began the use of Grape-Nuts food, for I knew it to be pre-digested, and have continued same with most gratifying results. It has built me up wonderfully. I gained 10 pounds in the first 8 weeks that I used Grape-Nuts, my general health is better than ever before, my brain is clearer and my nerves stronger.

"For breakfast and dinner, each, I take 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with cream, a small slice of dry toast, an egg soft boiled and a cup of Postum; and I make the evening meal on Grape-Nuts and cream alone—this gives me a good night's rest and I am well again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

THE FARMING WORLD

A SELF-SPACING FRAME.

Plan in Use by a Cuban Beekeeper—Not Favored by Editor of Bee Journal.

In the accompanying illustration is shown a new end-bar for the Hoffman frame. I have used them in my apiary for the last three years, writes C. E. Woodward, of Matanzas, Cuba, and they have given the best of satisfaction. I have never yet broken one of them, and they space just as accurately at the bottom as at the top, and no one can fail to nail them correctly. I made my end-bars one-half inch thick; thus the wire never sags and buckles the foundation.

In speaking of the frame the editor of Gleanings in Bee Culture frankly declares he does not like it, saying: I believe it is always a mistake to have the spacing in the hive-rabbet. The free lateral movement back and forth, of frames, where the spacers are on the frames themselves, is a feature we can not afford to sacrifice. Your frame would be far better, in my opinion, if you would use the spacing-button (same as you have at the bottom) at the top also. Such a frame would not be a bad one to handle. This exact form of a frame was made the subject of a patent a number of years ago, but I believe the patent has run out.

PLAN OF THE SELF-SPACING FRAME.

There is another objection to your notched rabbet that occurs to me; and that is, in moving bees your frames would be liable to hop out of the notches, making very unequal spacing at the top. When the spacers are on the end-bars or top-bars the frames always have to be just so far apart.

HAND CORN CRUSHER.

Economical Device Which Will Prove Serviceable in Preparing Corn for Feeding.

Select a plank three feet by six inches. Notch each side two inches deep near one end in which bolt on each side two uprights 2x3x6 inches. Between these is bolted a lever made from a 2x4, 2½ feet long. Raise this lever, place an ear of corn at A, on the notched pieces of hard wood, press the lever down and the crushed corn drops into the corn box or store box. Any young farmer who must necessarily earn his dollars before they are spent, will find this a practical crusher. This device, says the Ohio Farmer, is practical for feeders of cattle, poultry, swine or sheep. One hundred and fifty pounds on a lever three feet long, fulcrum six inches from the opposite end, gives 750 pounds pressure, and will crush corn nearly as fast as one man can husk it.

BELIEVER IN DEEP PLOWING

What a Missouri Farmer Thinks Are the Benefits to Be Derived by the Method.

I believe in deep plowing, writes a Missouri farmer, because it will deepen the soil and soil reservoir which holds the moisture. In the country where the soil is shallow I like to plow a little deeper each year, and in so doing I will gradually increase the depth of the soil. The furrow slice should be turned so that the harrow or the implement which follows can do the work after plowing. The surface of the field should be left in a corrugated form so that harrow or cutter can get hold to do the work. The furrow slice must not stand on the end or be turned flat. Another important point is to not plow when too wet, for it will greatly injure the soil and the ground will be harder to work afterwards. Don't get in too much of a hurry for it never pays to plow ground when it is too wet.

Keep a Record.

We find it a help to keep a brief record of our work. It takes but a few moments to jot down some of the things we learn as we go along. Some folks say that they have no time for such things; but there are some matters we must take time to look after, if we would avoid failure and stop the leaks.—Farm Journal.

Don't Feed Too Much.

My experience has been that steers do better on just enough feed and not too much. The value of a good feeder depends upon his ability to detect this balancing point. The amount of by-products used should depend upon the price. Bran at a low price is very helpful and is essential at any time for a high finish.

Alfalfa hay and corn give the greatest gains in feeding for baby beef. Next comes alfalfa hay and kafir corn grain.

A LIVING DEATH.

Vividly Described by a Citizen of Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

Andrew Johnson, 411 West Twelfth St., Sioux Falls, S. D., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life. My doctor, from a careful analysis of the urine and a diagnosis of my case, had told me I could not live six weeks. I was struck down in the street with kidney trouble, and for a whole year could not leave the house. I lost flesh, my eyes failed me, I bloated at times, my back hurt and I suffered a living death. There seemed no hope until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Then I began to improve. The pain left gradually, the swellings subsided, I gained appetite and weight, and, to make a long story short, I got well!"

SAVED BABY LYON'S LIFE.

Awful Sight from That Dreadful Complaint, Infantile Eczema—Mother Praises Cuticura Remedies.

"Our baby had that dreadful complaint, Infantile Eczema, which afflicted him for several months, commencing at the top of his head, and at last covering his whole body. His sufferings were untold and constant misery, in fact, there was nothing we would not have done to have given him relief. We finally procured a full set of the Cuticura Remedies, and in about three or four days he began to show a brighter spirit and really laughed, for the first time in a year. In about ninety days he was fully recovered. Praise for the Cuticura Remedies has always been our greatest pleasure, and there is nothing too good that we could say in their favor, for they certainly saved our baby's life, for he was the most awful sight that I ever beheld, prior to the treatment of the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Maebelle Lyon, 1826 Appleton Ave., Parsons, Kan., July 18, 1905."

Foot in It Again.

"So she's engaged, eh? That merely goes to prove the truth of what I have always contended—that, no matter how plain-looking a girl may be, there is a mate for her somewhere in the wide world. Whom is she to marry?"

"Me!"—Chicago Journal.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

Dan Logue is on a business trip to First Fork and Austin this week.

A postal telegraph message brought A. W. Smith, of Sterling Run, to the home of George Collins, Saturday to perform the last sad obsequies on Mr. Collins registered Durham hog. This animal had attained an enormous size and was in splendid condition. Wm. Logue, Major Bailey, P. P. Farrel and asst. foreman Alfred Smith each had engaged a rear quarter of the animal but as there was only two rear quarters, Mr. Collins was at a loss what to do as each man insisted upon a hind quarter. However they agreed that if A. W. Smith would sing a song that two of the men would take front quarters. So Mr Smith sang the following selection which is purely original. Mr. Smith sang it to the good old tune of Yankee Doodle.

My name is Smith from Sterling Run,
I've held some good positions,
In saw mills and in butcher shops,
And with great politicons,
I handle Larkins standard soaps,
They give good satisfaction,
The premiums are fine furniture
Which is the main attraction.

I now have killed this monstrous pig,
T'is my work to divide it,
You said if I would sing a song,
You'd leave me to decide it,
Let Bill and Patrick take the fronts,
Then Al and Major Bailey,
Take each a quarter from the rear,
And everything goes gaily.

What care we for the big Coal strike,
I guess t'will be a corker,
But I am sure of four good meals,
Off brother Collins porker,
So if I call at dinner time,
Have everything in order,
To make a meal from Collins porker,
And Larkins baking powder.

Ervin Parks, of Emporium, was in town Monday making an extension ladder for Wm. Logue to use at the mill. This ladder will be used by fireman Barr to climb up to the top of the smoke stack to fill the boiler. Mr. Parks also refereed a friendly three round bout between Mr. Minard Farley, of Renovo, and P. P. Farrel. Mr. Farrell got the decision. Mr. Parks then called at the office of the Amalgated Hen Combine at Big Run, to repair an egg machine, which recently hatched seven roosters out of sixty five eggs, and they got to fighting and broke the machine. We expect Mr. Parks to reside in our town in a short time and is assured of a hearty welcome.

The receipts were $51 which will be appropriated for the purchase of new regalia to replace that destroyed by fire a year age. Drs. Corbet and Russell were present to care for any sudden attack of indigestion. The decorations were fine.
